SPORTS PROGRAM FULL OF ACTION

SINGLES 10, MARRIEDS 6

The annual conflict between the has-beens and the want-to-bes was held on Old Settlers Day afternoon on the high school diamond. Stinging under the lash of defeat of last year the bachelors came back strong and defeated the old men by a 6 to 10 score. Up to the ninth inning the score was close and was worthy of old league stuff.

The hen-pecked lined-up thusly: B. Guttormson, H. Morton, M. Weeks, G. Guttornsen, C. Kennedy, E. Kennedy, H. Smith, R. Noddin, A. Keesling, I. Isbell and P. Shelley.

These are the youngsters who did it: C. Isbell, F. Heinzen, I. Smith, R. Hulsman, C. Silva, A. Guttormson, V. Sawyer, E. Pierce and T. Rogers.

THE RACES

Under the direction of L. T. Lenox and D. H. Cramer, assisted by Werner Rabb and Graham Peake a group of races were pulled off which both participants and spectators heartily enjoyed, and for which a number of prizes had been donated by Campbell merchants. Some who were not solicited would have been glad to contribute but the list of prizes was completed:

I. Girls under 14—50 yd. dash.
1. Florence Van Omen, bottle perfume.
2. Pamela Weston, box stationery.
Both donated by L. M. Beall.

II. Boys under 14—50 yd. dash.
1. Monte Laine, pocket knife.
2. Alfred Furtado, pocket knife.
Donated by C. H. Whitman.

III. Boys over 14—50 yd.
Manuel Homan, order for $2.50 in trade. By J. F. Wehmeyer.

IV. Girls over 14—50 yds.

J. D. Blaine.
2nd Race.
Bob Burns, pair gloves.
Farmers Union

VIII. Girls Sack Race.
Florence Van Omen, box candy.
Pollyanna.

HI BASKETERS WIN

The final event of the afternoon was one which is always a popular diversion, a basketball game between the Alumni and members of the present teams of the C. U. H. S. Much good-natured rooting is indulged in, but the Hi team rather has the bulge, as fellow students are more in practise than the adults whose sympathies are more or less divided. Playing upon the two teams were,—Alumni, Fritz Heinzen, Joe Heinzen, Raymond Hulsman, Edgar Kennedy, Elmer Hoerler, Harold Lancaster and Wayne Davis, and representing the high school were Sam Reed, Donald Feathers, Harold Shelley, Tom Lumb, Wm. Murphy, Antone Bonnacorso and Breck Reed.

Both teams played a good snappy game but practise and team work gave the high school quint a long lead over the alumni and the score was quite one-sided, 32-8.

Much of the success of the day was due to the untiring efforts of President E. R. Kennedy, as there were many things demanding his attention.

An innovation for the occasion was the volunteer services as ushers of the Camp Fire girls under the direction of their leader, Mrs. Geo. Miller. The girls performed their services very nicely, being efficient and very unobtrusive in their efforts.

MARCH 3 TO 10 IS CANNED FOODS WEEK

Do you know March 3-10 is National Canned Foods Week?

The American canned foods industry now leads the world in quality and production. These days, the housewife may serve an entire canned meal—the completeness of which our grandmothers perhaps never dreamed. Before the days of commercial canning, the variety was limited and the supply far from abundant. So remarkably, however, has the canning industry developed, that it is now possible to secure almost every fruit, vegetable, meat and fish canned. Also milk.

Canned foods are already prepared and can be served either hot or cold, without the necessity of cooking to make them palatable or digestible. Entertaining unexpected company is thus really a pleasure.

Modern canning factories not only put up fresh, clean food, but the can itself is first sterilized before the food goes in.

The can is never opened after sealing until it reaches the kitchen of the housewife miles away, but it opens up as fresh and tender as the day it was taken from the field.

The consumer gets fresh foods in the winter months as well as during the summer. He is indebted to the canner for fresh, health-giving food fifty-two weeks in the year.

By way of observing National Canned Foods Week, call upon your dealer TODAY and acquaint yourself with the wonderful assortment of canned foods at your service.

Buy canned foods this Week and convince yourself of their wholesomeness, economy, and superior quality.

Our community and county is primarily a canned food producer of some of the finest goods in the world, in fact, our reputation is of world renown for our choice fruits.

Our growers supply the fresh fruits, our canneries pack them, giving occupation to our towns people. Campbell is a fruit packing center. In lending support to this national campaign we are helping along our own town and community as many towns less favored can not be so aided.

MISS KENNEDY TAKES CHARGE OF LIBRARY

Wednesday evening Mr. Daniel Yeager concluded his term as Librarian of the Campbell Library. Mr. Yeager has been very efficient and successful in his conduct of the duties of his office, and but for the fact that Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, one of our former librarians has again taken up the work, the patrons of the library would be very regretful that another change was necessary.

As spring ranch work opened up Mr. Yeager found that his property demanded what time his duties as rural carrier permits him and upon ascertaining that Miss Kennedy would resume her position, tendered his resignation.

County Librarian, Miss Stella Huntington, was out a few days ago and checked up the county books and everything was in readiness for Miss Kennedy, who entered upon her duties yesterday afternoon. The patrons are very much pleased that the work of the office can go on smoothly and uninterruptedly, as would of necessity be the case if some one unfamiliar with the position and people had taken the place.

Mrs. D. S. Chambers, from Santa Cruz, spent part of the week here with her husband who has been having a garage built on his ranch on Payne Avenue. Mrs. Chambers and infant daughter will soon come here to stay.

MR. RODECK'S TALK OLD SETTLERS' DAY

Last week we said that we would publish Mr. Rodeck's resume of the history of this locality. This article was not prepared with the idea of appearing in print so that the sentences are more concise and condensed than is usual but our readers are interested in the facts rather than in their style of presentation.

Talk Given on Old Settlers' Day February 22nd, 1923.

History has it that Santa Clara Valley was first discovered by two European soldiers hunting on the mountains west of the valley in 1769.

Monterey Bay was discovered in 1602. An exploring party on March 22, 1777, entered from the south the Santa Clara Valley. Three rivers were discovered, Arroyo Coyote, Rio Guadaloupe and Arroyo de San Salvador. Dedication of Santa Clara Mission took place the same year. Cattle and horses were brought to Santa Clara Valley in 1777; Pueblo de San Jose on the Guadaloupe was the beginning of San Jose.

In 1826 Col. John Fremont at the head of a scientific exploring party of 62 men (Kit Carson among the number) entered from Monterey, going to the Gavilan Mountains and on the highest peak erected a rude fort, now called Fremont's Peak, on which the stars and stripes were unfurled. In July of the same year, Captain Fallon hoisted the American flag in San Jose.

The title to California was not acquired by treaty until February 2, 1848, 75 years ago.

In 1846 the Campbells arrived, having crossed the plains by ox team. Wm. Campbell, Thos. Campbell, his brother, and Benj. Campbell, his son, comprised part of the emigrants. There were no vehicles with spokes in the wheels at that time, they were made of solid logs, nor were there stoves to cook with, until these emigrants first came over. There were no wooden buildings. Dried adobe bricks constituted the building material.

Father and uncle of Benjamin Campbell were authorized by the Alcalde to survey a plot of land for building San Jose.

In 1848 gold was discovered at Coloma which caused much excitement and nearly everyone left for the mines. At one time, but two male residents remained to care for the flocks and herds. Stores and hotels were closed. On the return of some of the people, they went east to bring their relations and others to California to share the labors and pleasures of this State. Benjamin Campbell was one of those to pilot the second detachment to California, arriving in 1851. In this party were 43 persons, 36 of whom were relatives of Benjamin Campbell,—10 Lovells, 10 Ruckers, 9 Finleys and 8 Campbells. There are only 8 of this company known to be living tolay, viz., N. G. Finley (the only one at present residing in Campbell), J. P. Finley and wife of Portland, Ore., Hugh McNary Finley, of Oregon, Ann Eliza Embry, of Oregon, Mary Elizabeth Beauchcamp, of San Jose, Mrs. L. T. Cook, of Burlingame, and Geo. F. Rucker, of Lompoc.

Mr. Campbell located at this spot on 160 acres, others of his relatives on nearby quarter-sections. Farming and raising stock was begun. A crude sawmill was put up near Saratoga, and material was sawed for building purposes. Pickets were made from timber in the nearby woods, for fencing the ranches. The grain was harvested by horses tramping it out. Some of the other families following Mr. Campbell's settlement here and neighboring in the 50's and 60's were—P. G. Keith, Benjamin Latimer, Dan Ross, Louis and Benjamin Casey, Wm. Ware, Mr. Willet, Jonathan Parr, John Statler, Hess Bros. John Bollinger, William Adams, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Reinhardt, Zeri Hamilton, Hicks, Guerrazs and Kirks. None of these are konwn to be now living.

About the year 1880 fruit trees began to be planted in this section. As the fruit industry increased, raising grain was abandoned. About this time this place began to take on the idea of a town. Mr. Campbell layed off a number of lots for building purposes with restrictions against saloons. From this on, the settlement began to grow. Soon many buildings were put up for dwellings and business purposes. Campbell Hall was built in 1887, the Campbell Fruit Growers Union, Campbell Water Co. were organized; a cannery, blacksmith shop, grocery stores, hotel, and post office were built. Rural delivery was established. Churches, the I. O. O. F. Hall, Banks of Campbell and other buildings have been erected, until we feel we have a very secpectable start for a city. Our school buildings are a credit to this place and we are proud of them. You are invited to visit and inspect them. We are promised a fine library building in the near future.

About the year 1894 we began to hold the Old Settlers' gatherings. As I recall many of those who lived here and participated in the first gatherings I find the families of E. E. White,, C. H. Whitman, Benjamin Campbell, S. G. Rodeck, Judge Myrick, E. B. Conklin, T. M. Righter, W. H. Swope, Dan Ross, Geo. Whitney, Chas. Sutter, C. C. Cragin, P. G. Keith, Geo. Page, J. F. Duncan, F. E. Duncan, R. K. Thomas, Chas. Townsend, R. W. Kennedy, Wm. Shelly, J. C. Ainsley, J. R. Rodeck, Geo. Gardner, A. M. McGlincy, Chas. Berry, S. R. Wade, Mrs. Willet, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Castle, Mrs. Poor, Joseph Timothy, Dr. C. N. Cooper, T. B. Hopkins, Roy Watson, O. Haberdier, F. M. Smith, E. W. Parr, D. Oliver, S. A. Moulton, F. S. Foote, Geo. W. Snyder, Joseph Bohnett, James A. Hamilton, A. B. Capp and C. C. West. About one half of this number still remains in Campbell.

Fruit Association banquet will be held March 9, at the Vendome Hotel, San Jose. Tickets may be bought locally at the Farmers Union.

FIREMEN'S DANCE TO BE HELD MARCH 7

You will remember what a big time was enjoyed by all who attended the Firemen's Benefit dance last year and what a real boost it gave the department.

This year plans are being made to make this annual entertainment even better and bigger than last. Of course these affairs depend largely upon you and your support.

The boys will give their big doings at the California Canneries plant on the night of March 7. The music will be furnished by Marquart's five piece orchestra which insures the very best.

Give the boys your unstinted support when they call on you.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES

As one of the teachers has said, "Happy are the people who have no history," so it seems with us. We are all very happy but there seems very little "going on."

There has been much excitement concerning the word contest given by the Mercantile Trust company. There have been many note books flying around and questions such as, "How many words have you?"

Now that the playgrounds are in better condition we will soon be starting the baseball season. A boys' game is scheduled for next week with the Los Gatos grammar school.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Keesling and family have come to Campbell to make their home and have taken temporary quarters in the Alpha Apartments. Mrs. Keesling is one of the grammar school teachers, having been at Hamilton and is a sister of Mrs. Horace Lea.

Send a copy of the Press to your friends back east—$1.50 a year.

KALAS RECITAL IS COMPLETE SUCCESS

Miss Bozena Kalas of the piano faculty was the soloist at the fifth faculty recital last Friday in the College of Pacific auditorium. The recital was very well attended and each number was warmly received. The Conservatory String Quartet assisted Miss Kalas and a splendid opportunity was offered the audience of hearing some lovely chamber music.

Mozart's Pastorale Variee opened the program followed by the short and brilliant Prelude and Fugue in B Major by Bach. Miss Kalas showed splendid technique and insight into the musical values of both numbers. Her second group was delightfully played, first honors going to the Liszt Sposalizio. The colorful Dvorak Slavonic Dances proved very interesting and the MacDowell Polonaise gave Miss Kalas a chance to display her brilliance of technique.

The big number of the evening was the performance of the Schumann piano quartet. The charm of the poetic composition was well brought out by the beautiful ensemble work of the players and Schumann's right to be placed among the great figures of music was further established.

An interesting feature of the concert was the first performance in the West of two compositions for string quartet by Charles Rychlik, an American composer residing in Cleveland. Romantic in spirit and delicate in color these numbers received an enthusiastic response from the audience.

The recital was short, interesting from start to finish, splendidly played and thoroughly enjoyed.

Sale--Army Shoe--Sales

We have just bought a tremendous stock of Army Munson–Last shoes to be sold to the public direct. Price $2.75. These shoes are 100 per cent solid leather, with heavy double soles sewed and nailed. The uppers are of heavy tan chrome leather, with bellows tongue, thereby making them waterproof. These shoes are selling very fast and we advise you to order at once to insure your order being filled.

The sizes are 6 to 11, all widths. Pay postman on receipt of goods, or send money order. Money refunded if shoes are not satisfactory.

The U. S. Stores Co., 1441 Broadway, New York, N. Y. J. P. Miller, Manager.

Campbell is growing. There are now only 2 lots left in the Sourisseau Subdivision on Winchester Road. These lots are ideal, and the price low. See S. N. Hedegard about it.

S. F. SCHOONER SINKS AT SEA

Watson A. West Crashes in Fog off Santa Barbara

Santa Barbara—The Watson A. West, bound from San Francisco to San Pedro with a cargo of 800,000 feet of lumber, is a total wreck on San Miguel island, 30 miles off shore. The vessel struck late at night on San Miguel, a rocky promontory of the Santa Barbara group, after losing her bearings in a heavy fog, and so terrific was the impact that she broke up and sank a few minutes after the crew of ten men had taken to a small boat.

Unequipped with radio apparatus, the vessel was unable to seek help from shore, and first news of the wreck came to Santa Barbara when the small boat bearing the members of the crew reached the State street docks here, after 18 hours' battle with the heavy seas. The crew, commanded by Captain L. Sorenson, a grizzled veteran of many Pacific Coast cruises, had been forced to take to the boat without water and were almost exhausted when they landed here.

So great was the necessity for a quick getaway that the captain did not have time to secure the ship's papers. He brought the chronometers, a chart and compasses, by means of which a course was set for Santa Barbara. The lost vessel was owned by the Pacific Lumber Company of San Francisco.

COUNTERFEIT GANG EXPOSED

Headquarters Found to Be Bogus Money-Making Plant.

New York—Secret service operatives rounded up 64 counterfeiters involved in a plot of international scope through which between $1,000,000 and $10,000,000 in spurious money has been circulated.

A nation-wide hunt is being carried on, it was discovered, for the capture of 1000 members of a gang which maintained its headquarters in a basement in the Italian quarter of New York.

The plot was bared after the capture of three men, alleged by the authorities to be the leaders of the organization, and the discovery of the printing presses which turned out hundreds of thousands of United States $2, $5, $10 and $20 bills, American silver quarters, gold pieces, Austrian kronen, Italian lire, internal revenue stamps, water- marked prohibition papers, whisky and champagne bottle labels and bogus drug and liquor permits.

Raids were made in Manhattan, Brooklyn, Long Island City and New Jersey.

L. A. FILM ACTORS BURNED

Horses in Stampede as Tent Flames

Los Angeles—Six motion picture actors, most of them "extras," were injured during the burning of a huge circus tent in the filming of a motion picture at the Goldwyn studios at Culver City, a suburb.

The tent had been saturated with gasoline, set afire and blown down with wind machines, while 500 or 600 "extras" rushed for the exits. A six-horse team pulling a circus wagon in flames ran away and into the crowd of actors.

The most seriously injured was Joan Lowell, a young actress, who was given emergency treatment at the studio and then hurried to a hospital in Culver City. Others injured were E. C. Jack, Donabel Custer, Mrs. Nora Welch and her daughter, Helen, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Esther Byers of Glendale.

KING CAN

By John D. Blaine

Not so very far off in the future we will be given a new birthday to celebrate. It will be that of Nicholas Appert, Frenchman, who, in 1795, discovered the process of canning. This inventor will begin to be honored after some very wise person has written a new history of the world—"Progress of Civilization Made Possible by Canning and Preserving."

Think for a moment. Where do we go for foods? To a grocery store. What is a grocery store? Principally a place where things to eat are more or less attractively displayed "canned"—put up in jars, bottles, or tins.

Some of us older folk remember away back when canned articles were looked upon with doubt. Even today—Well out East somewhere there is a fanatic who teaches that the world is flat, not round. To know that such a thing can be in this age, prepares us a little for the shock of meeting the occasional person who doesn't believe much in canned goods.

The highest compliment that it is possible to pay anything that grows is, that the product is good enough to make worth while the business of preserving it out of season for us in cans.

Contest Lists Being Judged

The contest to see what boy or girl could find the most words made up of letters in the word "Mercantile," is closed. The fate of the 100 entrants from Campbell and Cambrian schools is in the hands of the judges.

We will announce the winners as soon as possible; but everybody must be patient, for this is a new experience with all of us, and it cannot be told in advance just how long the examination of the lists will take.

While we are waiting, here is a question to ask the contestants, school-boy fashion: "If you win, whatcha gona do with the money?"

Now, so far as the bank is concerned, those prizes—$25, $15, $10, and ten of $1 each—will be the pupils' own, to do with just as they please. Probably, though, the fathers and mothers concerned will offer some advice; and perhaps it will not be out of place for us to make suggestions too.

You will guess right off that we will say, "Put it in the Savings Bank." Well, wouldn't that be a good idea? Still, we may surprise you by saying that there is a bigger idea than even that.

Here is the thought: Always, as long as you live, you will, as a rule, have to divide your money for different uses. Some of it you will need to spend, and some you ought to save. If you learn to spend wisely, your power to earn, and hence your ability to save, will be increased. For example, you win your prizes in this contest by good use of a dictionary. That leads to a practical suggestion—if you win one of the larger prizes, and haven't a good dictionery of your own, buy one. Then put most of the remaining money in the Savings Bank.

"The Buyer's Opportunity"

First, Lenten Specials in Canned Fish

Norse Crown Specialties

Just as we folk of the Pacific Coast know how to can fruit, so the people of the Norway coast know how to can fish. They are experts in the fish industry. They know the best methods of preserving, and the seasons when the varieties are fattest and best flavored.

Mother Nature, moreover, as though in compassion on their bleak shores, has given the cold Norway waters a wealth of high class species hardly found in the same perfection of food value elsewhere. From those waters come the small, delicate bristling; the famous North Atlantic herring; the rich, white-fleshed mackerel. No wonder that Norway fish commands a good price, and that consumers willingly pay it.

We have kept back the Norse Crown Brands until now, because we want you to have something unusually nice to try for this Lenten season.

Norse Crown Bristling—A small, practically boneless sardine that is in a class by itself—25c.

Norse Crown Fresh Mackerel—delicately flavored white-meated fish in oval key-opening tins—30c.

Norse Crown Fat Herring—true Norway herring, rich in natural oil. Convenient key-opening tins—25c.

Norse Crown Kippered Herring—a treat for lovers of genuine herring in the "kippered" flavor—25c.

Norse Crown Soused Mackerel—the white-meated mackerel appetisingly spiced—30c.

Try Norse Crown varieties to know how fine canned fish can be.

Money Saving Opportunities

To stimulate your interest in "Canned Goods Week," to give you buying incentive, we offer reduced prices THIS WEEK ONLY in many of our highest class brands.

J. Cuthbertson. Mr. Myers was the architect of the Livermore grammar school which was dedicated January 30, and will plan the new Centerville high school building. He and the trustees were very enthusiastic in their praises of our new school.

KITCHEN SHOWER

Miss Elizabeth Turner was hostess Saturday afternoon at a prettily appointed kitchen shower in honor of Miss Jessie Wright of San Jose.

Bowls of the dainty wild pansies which abound on Albright Hill, were used in decorating.

An interesting travel game was made the means of presenting Miss Wright with her gifts. Warren Turner, acting as baggage-man, appeared upon the scene with a muchly labeled suit case for the "Wright" party. The young lady was requested to show what her traveling case contained for a wedding journey, and so discovered the parcels. Considerable entertainment was afforded in watching the unwrapping and by the reading of the lines attached.

The afternoon was concluded with the serving of dainty, appetizing refreshments. The guests included friends and acquaintances of the two guests of honor from both San Jose and Campbell.

PUNDITA CIRCLE ENTERTAINS DAD

On the evening of Wednesday February 21st, the ladies of Pundita Circle held open house for "Mothers and Dads" at the home of Mrs. Stray on North Second street. The spirit of the evening was patriotic, of course, and the door was opened by no other than the honorable George Washington himself, the character being well taken by Mr. Stray. The guests were then greeted by the charming hostess in the quaint and becoming costume of Martha Washington.

The house was cleverly decorated with many flags. Places of honor were given to excellent portraits of Washington and Lincoln, and several interesting souvenirs of overseas service in the late war were on exhibition.

Nearly all the ladies and some of the men were in costumes representing many periods of our history from Pocahontas and Colonial Dames down to several branches of our modern service—a belle of Civil War days, Quaker, Goddess of Liberty, Red Cross nurses, overseas nurse, Salvation Nell, Spanish War veteran and veterans of the World War. Major Carboni was there in all the glory (and discomfort) of his gold epaulettes, heavy uniform and clanking sword. The best characterization of the evening was Mr. Pardee as Lincoln in his long-tailed coat and high, shiny hat. The resemblance of his make-up to the actual portrait was remarkable. Mrs. Lincoln was also present.

Columbia (Mrs. Purmort) had charge of the program which was in the spirit of the occasion. Mrs. Alison gave two delightful readings from Edgar Guest's poems —"Only a Dad" and "A Patriotic Wish." James W. Riley's "Old Glory" was beautifully read by Mrs. Mumma. The greater part of the program was devoted to the story of our patriotic songs told in a most interesting way by Mrs. Purmort and vocally illustrated by the following ladies: Miss Helen Kalas, Mrs. Webb, Mrs. H. W. Williams, Mrs. D. H. Cramer, Mrs. Mumma, Mrs. Pardee and Mrs. Carboni.

After the program refreshments were served in keeping with the spirit of the evening—many delicious sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee.

It was amusing to see George Washington sit at a modern piano and grind out jazz for the pleasure of those who cared to one step or fox trot. How shocked he would have been at such unseemly goings-on! The evening wound up with a jolly Virginia Reel.

PLANT A TREE

"Plant a tree!" March 4 to 10 is Tree Planting Week and March 7, which comes in that week, is Arbor Day. By act of legislature in 1915 March 7, which is Luther Burbank's birthday, was designated as Arbor Day. All public schools and educational institutions were directed to observe the day with suitable exercises to promote the spirit of protection and the need of conservation of trees.

Children born in this part of the state and some older time residents cannot really appreciate what the wealth of trees means. With little or no reason some people mutilate trees by lopping off large limbs needlessly, or cut down some lovely shade tree that has taken years to grow. If they could spend a few seasons on some of the open prairies where the wind sweeps for scores of miles without let or hindrance, only as people with great labor and pains succeed in growing wind-breaks, they would learn to cherish trees and estimate them at their true value. Even here we need to plant and cultivate trees for our own and future use and pleasure.

That the people of California are enthusiastic over the planting of trees, particularly along the state highways, is shown by the large demand made for trees upon the state nursery by civic organizations all over the state. Commercial nurseries are also experiencing the greatest demand in their history for trees, the planting of which means so much to the multplication of beauty and wealth in California.

REMINGTON IN LIQUOR PLOT

Los Angeles Clubman May Have Been Murdered by "High Jackers"

Los Angeles—Police trucks have carried away close to 100 gallons of bootleg whiskey from the basement of the Earle Remington home in a fashionable residence district. The whiskey was manufactured by the murdered clubman and was to have been sold to an exclusive few in the Wilshire district, according to Mrs. "Peggy" Remington's statement to Captain of Detectives George Home, made several days ago.

The startling information was kept secret by the police until after they had located and questioned the persons who had assisted Remington to operate a 75-gallon still, first in the basement of his former business address on Seaton street and then on his ranch near Chino.

"High Jackers" Probable Slayers

After the questioning of all persons known to have been involved with Remington in the manufacture and sale of the whiskey, Captain Home put underway an investigation of Remington's connections with a well organized ring of bonded whiskey smugglers operating between the Canadian border and San Francisco and Los Angeles.

A bootlegger war or a "high jackers" feud, the police believe, may have resulted in the killing of Remington with a shotgun as he stepped from his small coupe in the driveway of his home.

The police explained that "high jackers" are holdup men who operate only against known-to-be bootleggers. and who steal only whiskey known to be in the possession of bootleggers. After the whisky has been taken by force it is resold by the "high jackers" to other whiskey dealers.

POLICE SEEK BANK SWINDLER

Frauds in Many Cities Disclosed After Probe.

Chicago—An immigrant boy from Italy of a dozen years ago who later became a West Side barber in Chicago, is being sought along the Mexican border while bankers and State officials in the East and Middle West trace his career in frenzied finance, a career which has already cost investors from a half million to a million dollars or more.

The missing barber-banker is Joseph M. Marcino, or Joseph B. Biata a dapper man, 27 years old, just a little more than five feet tall, and remarkably broad.

Marcino's career as a financier, according to Burns men who have been following him for several years, started about 1917 or 1918, when he fathered a scheme for starting a new bank at Ottawa, Ill., and buying out the existing bank. As a result of that scheme he was indicted by the grand jury there for operating a confidence game, but disappeared.

He was next heard from in California, where the Bank of Perris, California, failed for a large sum after he had become connected with it. Losses of approximately $130,000 to depositors there were repaid about July of last year, Burns men declare, when a well-known Chicago attorney made a trip to the coast to square Marcino's accounts and save him from prosecution.

FIRE AT BAY POINT

Blaze Wipes Out Block in Business District of Town

Martinez—Fire starting from a defective flue wiped out a block in the business district of the city of Bay Point, Contra Costa county. The total loss is estimated at $35,000.

Combined efforts of the fire departments of Bay Point and its neighboring cities, Martinez, Concord and Pittsburg, checked the flames, which threatened the entire town, after a four hours' battle.

During the present year accidental fires have caused a quarter of a million dollars in damage to Bay Point. During January one of the largest individual fires wiped out the Bay Point box factory with a loss of $50,000.

SALT LAKE SMOKERS WROTH

Freeman's League to Repeal Utah Blue Laws Is Formed.

Salt Lake City—There have been no further arrests in Salt Lake City for violation of the State anti-cigarette law as it pertains to smoking in public places.

The only development in the campaign to repeal the cigarette measure was a meeting of prominent citizens, at which the Freeman's League of Utah was organized for the express purpose of repealing all so-called Utah blue laws.

Three prominent Salt Lake residents were arrested last week for smoking in a public restaurant.

MEXICO PLANS DRY ZONE

Washington—The Mexican government, according to advices received here, is contemplating the adoption of a prohibition law directed against all alcoholic beverages within a zone of 50 miles wide along the entire American border.

Canned Foods
The Choicest of All Seasons

Canned fruits and vegetables are taken direct from the fields or orchards when they are in the right condition of maturity, and it is but a few hours until they are prepared, canned and cooked.

Within three or four hours from the time food is growing on the stalk or vine the greater part of it is cooked and safely stored in the warehouse. A small part may be allowed to wait longer than the minimum, but seldom longer than the day's run.

The consumer gets fresh fruit and vegetables in the winter months instead of being limited to a diet of dried apples, salt pork and hominy. He is indebted to the canner for fresh, health-giving food fifty-two weeks in the year.

After the fruits, vegetables and other products are put in the can, the can is sealed air tight, and it is then that the food is cooked. The sealed cans with fresh food inside them are put into retorts and cooked at a high heat and under steam pressure till the contents are sterilized.

The can is never opened after cooking until it is opened in the kitchen of the consumer, miles away and maybe months later, but it opens up almost as fresh and tender as the day it was taken from the field.

ONLY a few generations ago the barber with his limited knowledge and skill was the community surgeon. Today surgery is a very highly specialized and respected profession.

As in the medical profession so in another calling, one we do not often think about or appreciate, the progress is similarly striking. The service of the modern funeral director is founded on a large fund of new scientific knowledge. It is backed up with facilities that provide for every possible requirement and take the place when desired of hospital, church and home.

It is a service that knows no eight hour day or any social or financial distinction, that places no limitations on what you may wish, that serves you this very day. through its complete preparedness.
